Items to Consider:

We have not examined the structure of our colleges and departments for many years; do we have the right number and types of colleges?

Do colleges have the proper alignment of departments and/or schools?

Are department mergers possible that would improve research opportunities and academic program possibilities?

Should there be minimum size restrictions on departments?

What structural changes will encourage interdisciplinary research and academic programs?

Is program review working?

Should department head stipends be standardized across the university?

Should all department heads have 12 month appointments?
